San José to Tortuguero

“Tortuguero” comes from the Spanish name for the giant sea turtles (tortugas) that nest on the beaches of this region every year from early March to mid-October. The exceptionally high rainfall and rich environment makes the beaches, canals, lagoons, and wetlands of Tortuguero areas of exceptional biodiversity. This is an incredible opportunity for nature lovers and there is no better way to explore this park than from the water.

Breakfast

Breakfast will be in your hotel before the drive and boat ride today.

Travel to Tortuguero National Park

Set out very early for Tortuguero National Park, the “Venice” of the rainforest. Drive for 3 hours through Braulio Carrillo National Park, seeing the vegetation change from rainforest to cloud forest and back to rainforest again. Board your boat to Tortuguero for a 90-minute ride on the Parismina river and on some man-made canals.

Tortuguero Village and the Sea Turtle Conservancy

After lunch, spend the afternoon visiting Tortuguero Village and enjoy a quick but informative visit to the Sea Turtle Conservancy. Tortuguero beach is the most important nesting site of the endangered green turtle in the Western Hemisphere. Giant leatherback, hawksbill, and loggerhead turtles also nest here.

Evening at Your Lodge

Tortuguero

An endless system of rivers and canals make Tortuguero the most biologically diverse region of Costa Rica. They also allow for some extraordinary in-depth exploration by boat, so get those cameras ready to capture some amazing wildlife. Crocodiles, lizards, toucans, sea turtles, and howler monkeys are often spotted.

Explore the Park by Boat

Explore the Park's winding jungle waterways by boat, looking for monkeys, sloths, crocodiles, and more.

Explore the Park by Foot or Canoe

There are many ways to experience the beauty of Tortuguero, and, after lunch, you will get to choose between hiking up to a look-out point where you can take in sweeping views of the surrounding landscape and wildlife or canoeing through the lagoons and jungle waterways of the park.

Tortuguero to Arenal

The Central Highlands of Costa Rica are surrounded by the landscape's dominating volcanoes. In 2010, Arenal was considered one of the ten most active volcanoes in the world, and the area around it is a virtual playground. There are opportunities to explore this remarkable area on foot, by bike, and by flying through the forest canopy on a zip line tour.

Head to Arenal and Pick Up Luggage

Leave Tortuguero by boat on your way to Arenal, stopping in Caño Blanco, where your driver will be waiting (with the rest of your luggage) to take you to the Arenal Volcano area. The drive will be just under 3 hours.

Whitewater Rafting

Before arriving in Arenal, stop at the Sarapiquí River for an exciting guided whitewater rafting trip! This Class II - III rafting adventure takes you through more than 20 rapids in about three hours. You will be briefed on safety, and it is mandatory to wear a helmet and life jacket.

Originating from clear mountain streams, the Sarapiquí River runs from the Central Mountain Range just north of San Jose to the San Marcos River which runs along the shared border between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. The river is considered a national monument because of the vital service it provided in transporting arms, goods, and soldiers in the 1856 war against the filibusters.

Arenal to Guanacaste

The Guanacaste region is a dry tropical rainforest that creates a varied landscape. Popular white-sand beaches line the coast, and to the east the Guanacaste Mountains feature fascinating national parks and caldera volcanoes.

Swim Beneath La Fortuna Waterfall After leaving Arenal in the morning, stop to swim in the emerald pools beneath La Fortuna Waterfall after you hike to the falls. La Fortuna Waterfall emerges from dense jungle greenery before plummeting some 200 feet into a pool below. Bring your bathing suit!

Drive to Guanacaste After lunch in La Fortuna, head to the Guanacaste region in the northwestern province in Costa Rica. Arriving late afternoon at Rio Perdido, spend some time relaxing and soaking in the surroundings.

DAY 7
Saturday
8/10/24

Guanacaste

The driest region of Costa Rica, Guanacaste is known for its lovely northern Pacific beaches, funky ocean-side villages, and miles of grazing plains that give way to dry tropical forests and bubbling mud pots at Rincon de la Vieja National Park. This region is a haven for all kinds of watersports!

River Float

Begin a full day of adventure at Rio Perdido by floating down the river in a modified inner tube, through a gorgeous narrow canyon with the rainforest canopy above. Some parts of the river are very calm and slow, others are faster and very exciting! Sometimes you may need to carry your tube to get over rocks. Make sure to wear water shoes, sneakers, or Teva sandals. No flip-flops! Life vests and helmets are provided.

Ziplining Adventure

In the afternoon there will be a zip-lining/canyoning tour. While Costa Rica has dozens of “canopy tours,” with hundreds of zip-lines, Rio Perdido has truly innovated with their Canyon Adventure. Under the guidance of renowned adventure designers, they have created a sequence that will please and surprise. Inspiring Rio Blanco canyon is the main stage for the awesome cable-based zip-line experience. Good walking shoes are a must! The adventure includes 15 platforms, six of which are rock-based and nine of which are suspended on the canyon walls, as well as zip lines of varying lengths from 260 to over 800 feet.

Guanacaste

Guanacaste has a long history as a cattle raising area. Its “Sabanero” cowboy culture still defines the personality of the province. In recent years, the area has become the most popular place in the country for beachfront development. Small fishing villages like Tamarindo are now a top draw for travelers, with hotels lining the beach boulevard, while quieter retreats further south on the Nicoya Peninsula offer plenty of peace and quiet for those looking to get away from it all.

La Anita Rainforest Ranch

Begin the day at Anita Rainforest Ranch where you will meet the owners, Pablo and Ana, and spend time with Ana as she gives you a private tour of the property. Learn how they grow and harvest their crops, especially cacao, and how it is transformed from dry beans to paste and on to artisan chocolate. Of course, you get to try some too!

Cooking Class

In a short cooking class, you’ll enjoy delicious food and fresh produce from the chef’s organic gardens finished off with homemade ginger-spiced lemon and natural fruit juices.

Meet Aracely

Continue to the small town of Colonia Libertad, and meet Aracely, a neighbor in the village. She will share a wonderful and special dessert treat in her home.

Farewell Dinner

Have a farewell dinner with your new AdventureWomen friends. Reminisce over all the memories you have made and celebrate the end of an amazing journey through this truly spectacular country.

Adventure Travel Today

We define "adventure travel" as travel in which one actively participates, as opposed to a "tour," in which one is more or less a passive observer. AdventureWomen designs and organizes trips all over the world for women who want an active, out of the ordinary experience, and meet new friends. Most of all, we want our trips to be fun! In this spirit, the successful adventure traveler should be a good-natured realist and have a sense of humor! Adventure trips, by nature, require that participants be self-sufficient, flexible, and able to accept situations as they exist, and not just as they would have preferred or expected them to exist. The constraints of scheduled group traveling also necessitate that each of us be understanding of and sensitive to others. Being on time is important, and contributes to the congeniality, success and well-being of both individuals and the group!
